

Amateur Leagues Furnish Two Snappy Games Today---Association Will Meet

TWO GOOD CONTESTS BOOKED IN LEAGUES

Federal and Capital City Circuits are Staging Interesting Battles.

ASSOCIATION WILL MEET

Moguls to Take Up Post-Season and Intercity Series at Meeting.

Among the Amateurs

GAMES TODAY.
Capital City—Cornell vs. Bankers.
Central—Sherwood vs. Printers.
East Washington—Open date.
Brookland—Baptist vs. Episcopal.
Federal—Petworth vs. Fairmont.
Northwest—Open date.
Potomac—Oxon Hill vs. Steel Plant.
Eastern—Mohawks vs. Western Buds.

By BRYAN MORSE.

Bankers and Cornell and Petworth and Fairmont are furnishing the excitement in the amateur leagues today. The title in both circuits depends in a measure on the result of today's games. The Capital City League flag will be clinched if the Bankers lose, although it will mean that two more chances in two other engagements will be offered to the American Security and Trust team.

Petworth and Fairmont in the Federal circuit are expected to draw good crowds today. The scrap between these two teams is one which is stimulating considerable interest. President Robert Johnson, of the circuit, has succeeded in bringing order out of chaos and must be given the credit for his good work.

Should either of the two teams mentioned get a look in for the District title there will be many who will turn out for the contests in which the teams engage. While neither is calculated to show the strength of Interior, of the Departmental, the Capital City winner, or Ninth Street Christian Church, the Federal winner is expected to take its place at the front rank of section B.

Fairmont will qualify men for the post-season series as follows: Bauer, Dyer, Deleman, Davis, Oliver, Shipley, J. C. State, Harry, State, Stanley, Thompson, Woodard, Zachary, Linn, Hanlen, Ochsenreiter, Woodin, Russ, and Platt.

Petworth nominates the following: Mac Brown, Edward Clifton, Ferguson, Frague, R. S. Jones, Jr., John E. Miller, C. W. Staunton, Jesse Baggett, George Selts, Paul A. Hines, Jr., C. W. Plunkett, Bernard J. Galt, Charles J. Armbruster, H. H. Kidwell, Sam Johnson, Warren Dean, John Ebert, M. P. Wood, J. Kistler.

The Amateur Commission meets tonight at the office of President Robert H. Young, in the Southern building, to settle all player, referee, and umpire questions and those which will take care of the intercity series.

The question of umpires to be designated and the playing grounds will also come in for consideration today. Teams will be classified according to strength, and the three sections of the post-season series will be played starting Saturday.

Manager Joe Oliveri is casting about for another team to tackle next Sunday afternoon. His Vigilante team handily won a double-header from the Holy Cross Lyceum team, of Baltimore, yesterday at Vigilant Park, by the score of 6 to 4 and 10 to 0.

Cobb umpired in the second contest as per schedule, and was acceptable in every way. The famous Detroiters were forced to concede the contest in the sixth inning in order to get to a train.

But eight hits were obtained off of Oliveri's pitching selections, Thompson and Giovannetti, in the two battles. Many errors were made by the Vigilante in the first game, but the team settled down to good baseball in the second contest.

Oldfield, of Trinity, in the Marquette League, is given top honors in the average published today, with a mark of .500 in six games played. The real leader is Kirkley, of Holy Name, who participated in fifteen games for a mark of .423.

St. Paul and Immanuel, of the Northwest Sunday School League, are playing off their game of last week on Wednesday afternoon. The teams hooked up in a 4-to-6 tie last week, and the contest is announced for Wednesday, instead of today.

Petworth is likely to be without a batter for today's game, following the announcement that two of the players have gone out of town with an independent team.

Four Tournaments Are On For Tennis Titles

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Four championship tennis tournaments are being played today in a many different sections of the country. All are being played under the auspices of the National Lawn Tennis Association. They are:

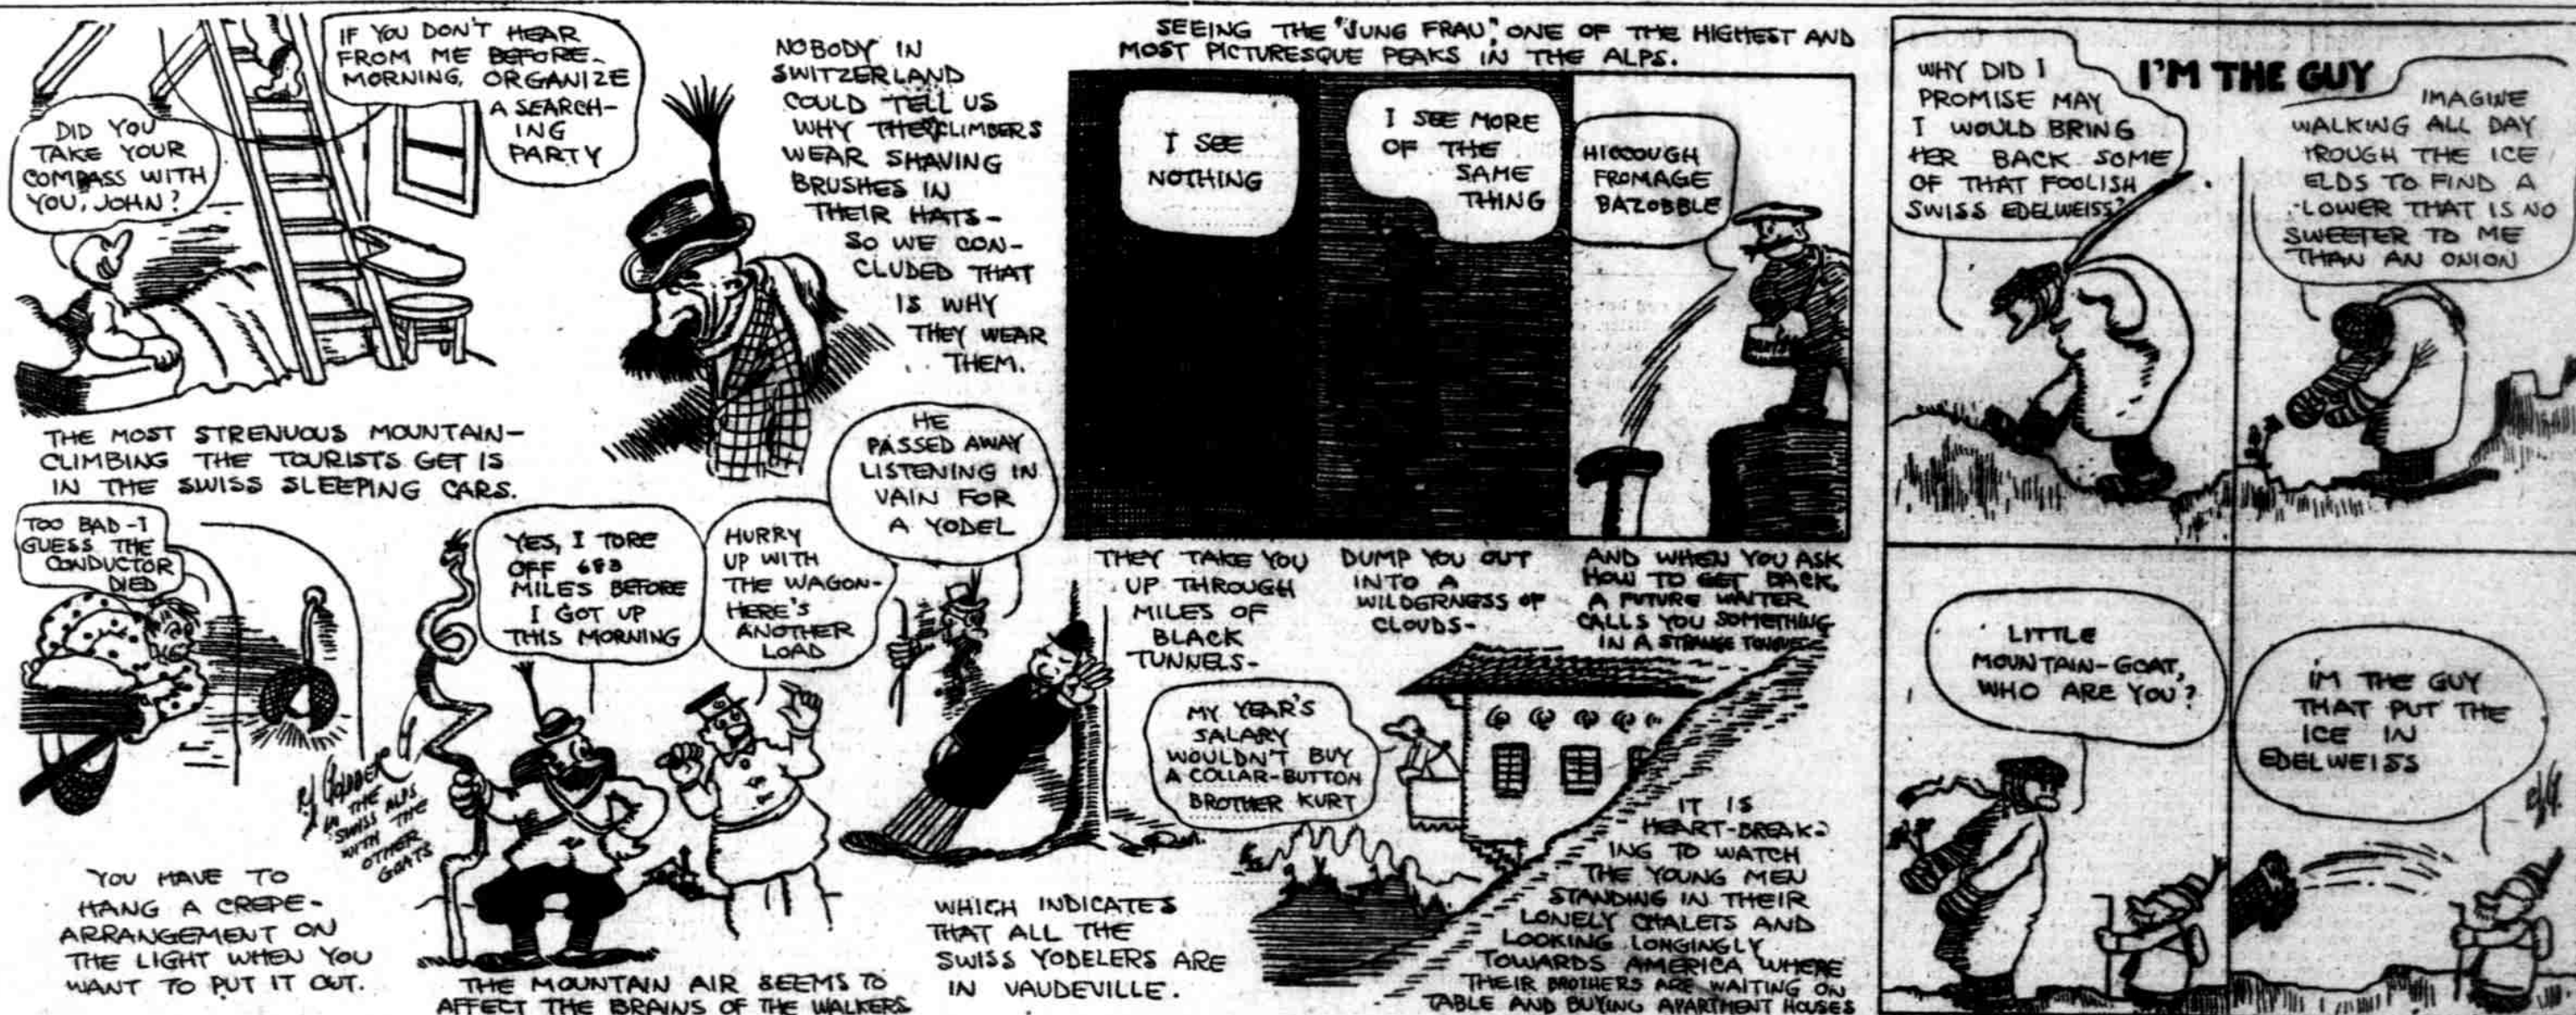

The Northwestern championships, on the Minnesota Yacht Club courts, at Lake Minnetonka, Minn.; the Michigan State championships, on the courts of the Detroit Tennis Club courts, at Detroit; the Southwestern district open championship, being played on the courts of the Dallas Lawn Tennis Club, at Dallas, Tex.; and the Pacific Coast international championship, being played at Tacoma, Wash., on the courts of the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club. Besides these title matches, an open tournament is being held today at Elmhurst, N. Y., on the courts of the Elmhurst Tennis Club.

Refuses Large Sum.
It is said that the Buffalo club has refused an offer of $10,000 for Frank Truesdale, the Boston's second baseman. The St. Louis Browns tried out Frank a year ago, but turned him back.

WOULD GO BACK TO WASHINGTON C. C. C.

Old Members Maintain New Organization Would Help Them, Where W. A. A. Fails.

The Washington Cross-Country Club, which went out of commission when the Washington A. A. was started some time last fall, is due for reorganization under its old name, with practically the same membership, according to information received today. Memorial A. C. men are reported to be in favor of the move.

Continued dissatisfaction expressed at the treatment accorded the members of the Washington A. A., which started off with such a rush last fall, and the failure to live up to the inducements offered to join the new organization, is given as the reason for the contemplated move.

Many of the former members of the old Washington C. C. C., which flourished under Jack Stowell's leadership and won cross-country runs and other events, have expressed their willingness to withdraw from the Washington A. A., which they claim is a name only, and will continue as the Washington C. C. C.

It is pointed out that the Washington A. A. has done nothing for the athletes, that many promises were given that good treatment would be accorded the members of the Washington A. A. should they amalgamate. Since the inception of the Washington A. A. the members claim that there have been meetings only when meets were to be held and that no advantages of any sort are forthcoming along any line for the athletes.

Former members of the Washington A. A. have come to Jack Stowell and maintained that they will be able to make a new charter under the Washington C. C. C. and enter in competition as they did in other years. The Washington A. A. is said to be at the back of the movement to reorganize the club.

King and Queen Attend Regatta

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 4.—Fresh from the Goodwood race meeting, society flocked to Cowes today for the opening of the famous regatta. The regatta, which is a brilliant spectacle when the signal gun boomed for the start of the first race, for as far as the eye could see were ranged the yachts of most of the leading yachting enthusiasts of Europe and America.

The standard floating over the regatta, the presence of King George and Queen Mary taking a well-earned rest after the racing, was a brilliant sight. The standard of the Royal Yacht Squadron's club house was crowded with the elite of European society, the only "out-and-queen" Mary taking a well-earned rest after the racing, and special police were rushed here to prevent threatened suffragette demonstrations.

Today's events comprised the Royal London Yacht Club's regatta, and the regatta of the Royal Yacht Squadron, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, when the Royal Yacht Club Squadron's regatta fills the bill. King George's cup will be contested for tomorrow and the Kaiser's cup is the chief prize on Wednesday.

BINGLES AND BUNTS

By GRANTLAND RICE.

Not Calling Any Names.

Nineveh once was a pennant town. Driving on to a golden goal, holding each pop-eyed rival down. Packing the park in a sardine shoal: "Some ball town," rang the ancient din! But you know Nineveh's berth today— Since a certain owner came betting in. And ran the game in a certain way.

Some game? Who can doubt it? Frank Chance, unable to beat the White Sox with the Cubs, is playing their hide off with the Yankees. Where Tricker, Evers, Zimmermann, Brown, Archer, and others couldn't come through, Ezra Midkiff, Pecknapp, etc., are merely romping in.

Callahan can use "Reb" Russell as often as he used to employ Walsh. But how many games has Walsh won for him this season? An iron man, Mawruss, may be an iron man, y'understand, but the answer is something else again.

"O, father, I hear the sound of guns; O, pray, what can it be?" "It's the great Zim back in the line-up, kid." The father answered him.

"O, father, I hear an awful roar; Pray tip me to the frame?" But the old pap answered never a word. For Zim was out of the game.

We made an attempt to trade our left mitt for Jimmy Archer's right one, but called the deal off when James insisted that we throw in one ear and a brace of toes. We figured the deal should be on the basis of even trade, as expert measurements showed that only 11 per cent of either mitt was intact.

The next time Rube Benton attempts to strike out a street car with a motorcycle he will probably use a slow curve rather than a straight fast one down the middle of the track.

Just as America's luck would have it, Vardon and Ray arrive for an invasion of this country at the precise moment when he can only swing a club with one hand. Which leaves it up to only McDermott, Smith, McNamara, Brady, and several others only capable of averaging 70s.

AUTOMOBILE RUN ENDS WITH RECORD

Eighteen Indiana-Made Cars

Finish 3,600-Mile Trip in Thirty-three Days.

By HARRY WARD.

One of the greatest automobile tours in the history of motordom came to an end yesterday when eighteen Indiana-made cars rolled into Los Angeles just thirty-three days after leaving Indianapolis. The distance covered was 3,600 miles. Throughout the long transcontinental journey nothing stopped the cars, and every machine, except that of A. L. Westgard, who is traveling in the interest of the National Highway Association, checked in at the last control last night.

Such a record is held remarkably by every man on the tour, considering the varied condition of the roads the party traveled. The Brown truck, which was left in the Rocky mountains on account of an accident joined the party yesterday after making short cuts across several States. The speedometer on the truck showed a mileage of 2,900 miles, while the tour was 3,600 miles in extent. The Marion entries of the Marion Motor Car Company finished the tour in good shape.

Now that the trip is ended the officials of the affair are happy that every man and car which started from Indianapolis reached the finish point without serious accident.

Form Winter League.

Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Oxnard, San Bernardino, Long Beach, Bakersfield, and Santa Ana will form the eight-club circuit of the reorganized California winter league.

Home once led all the major leagues— Some was there with the old bloop. There with the stuff and the wise intrigues, With never a chance for the game to slip; But the crowds for a thousand years have quit In the land where the Tiger still holds sway— Since a certain mogul took the bit And ran the game in a certain way.

Some game? Who can doubt it? Frank Chance, unable to beat the White Sox with the Cubs, is playing their hide off with the Yankees. Where Tricker, Evers, Zimmermann, Brown, Archer, and others couldn't come through, Ezra Midkiff, Pecknapp, etc., are merely romping in.

EASTERN CHAMPIONS PICKED FOR TITLE

Touchard and Washburn Look

Best for National Doubles Trials to Meet Titleholders.

By HARRY WARD.

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Aug. 4.—Tennis stars who will compete tomorrow in the national doubles tournament at the Onwentsia Club, reached Chicago today and worked out under ideal weather conditions on the Onwentsia courts.

The winners of the Western, Southern, Pacific coast, and Eastern championships will meet in the semi-finals tomorrow. Victors in tomorrow's matches will compete on Wednesday for the honor of meeting Maurice E. McLoughlin, and Thomas C. Bundy, present champions, in the challenge match at Newport, R. I., August 11.

The Southern pair, Robert Shellen and J. B. Adou, were not given much consideration because of their showing in the singles of the Western tourney. The coast team, Strachan and Gifford, and the Western champions, Byford and Bundy, developed Saturday, are believed to be almost evenly matched.

Experts predict, however, that Touchard and Washburn, the Eastern champions, and the Western pair, will be the contenders in the finals Wednesday.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE TO BE MET AGAIN

After Defeat Yesterday Washington C. C. Will Tackle Rivals for Another Match.

With games standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Washington Cricket Club over the Sons of St. George of Baltimore, the rival clubs are expecting another engagement at Sutton, Md., Sunday, August 17.

The Washington contingent firmly expecting to defeat the Sons yesterday, received a setback by a score of 51 to 54 at Sutton, Md., Capt. Jimmy Rose being out of the line-up.

It looked as though the Washington team would win after the Sons started batting, but fifty-three runs were made after seven wickets had fallen. Temper and Sprigman, however, gathered in thirty-two between them and brought the total up.

De Motta, for the Washington team, bowled handily, and got five wickets. J. J. Morton having three to his credit and Cannon the other two. Lawson, for the Sons, bowled five wickets.

Rival Owners Bid For Old Rosebud

SARATOGA, Aug. 4.—There are two rival owners bidding against one another to obtain Old Rosebud, the winner of the Flash Stakes Saturday.

Colonel Applegate is reported to have turned down an offer of $20,000 for the gelding, and the same information has it that the Kentucky gentleman desires at least $10,000 more before he parts with the star two-year-old of the season.

There is no question that Old Rosebud can stand any youngster shown this year right in his head. The manner in which he ran away from the first field Saturday showed his class and ability. While every horseman pronounces Old Rosebud to be the daddy of them all, George (Whitely) Langdon goes further, and declares that Old Rosebud is the best two-year-old he ever saw squint through a bridle.

Langdon is considered a corking judge of runners, so you have got to pay some attention to his dope. Old Rosebud's sire, Uncle, was some stepper, but this youngster has it on his "old man." There may be some world beaters in the two-year-old division eating in some stall, but he will have to be a running fool to catch up with Old Rosebud.

Wiley and Moran to Meet Again Tomorrow

REVERE, Mass., Aug. 4.—Champion George Wiley, of Syracuse, N. Y., will attempt to make up for his defeat at the hands of Jimmy Moran in Saturday night's twenty-five-mile motor-paced race, when he meets the Chelsea boy in another race, best two in three heats, of ten miles each, tomorrow night.

Wiley insisted today that they have the track to themselves, as he claims the third rider in Saturday's race hindered him in his attempts to pass Moran.

BOB THAYER'S SPORTING GOSSIP

"EVERY KNOCK IS A BOOST."

White Sox here.

With the Chicago White Sox here for four days, the Griffiths have an opportunity to make up for the ground they lost last week. They are now leading Cal's outfit seven games won to five lost, and if they can spurt a bit and take three of the four scheduled here, they should be all ready for the Naps on Friday. But they will find the Sox in the game every minute, just the same.

Birmy's hopes.

Following five straight victories over the world's champions, Joe Birmingham can look ahead and see the pennant flying from the pole in the Cleveland ball park. Birmy is a likeable chap, except on the field, and he has our best wishes, but today he will discover that C. Mack and company are no friends of his, with the condition continuing for three more days.

Flynn vs. Smith.

Friday's battle between Jim Flynn and Gunboat Smith may be worth while, if the night is not too warm in New York and the boxers haven't agreed to play for a return bout. But as for deciding the mixer over the title—there's nothing to it whatever. Both men are second-raters at best, but they should do some swell squaring.

Hedgepeth's game.

No officials scorers has a right to make an error of a play change on a trip down in Virginia proved to be stronger than the affiliation with the club in the league and Petworth suffers in consequence. All this comes under the head of being strictly amateurs.

Players to be gone.

Petworth is likely to find a couple of players not in the line-up today who could be used to advantage. It seems that the lure of a little change on a trip down in Virginia proved to be stronger than the affiliation with the club in the league and Petworth suffers in consequence. ENTRY LIST SHOWS ROWING ON BOOM

Two Hundred Oarsmen to Strive for Honors in Boston Regatta.

NEW YORK, July 4.—That amateur rowing is on the boom is clearly indicated by the list of entries for the forty-first annual championship regatta which will be held in Boston on next Friday and Saturday afternoons under the direction of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. No fewer than ninety-one entries have been received, the greatest entry in the history of the sport, and more than 200 oarsmen will strive for honors. Last year, when the regatta was held in Peoria, sixty-three entries were received, establishing a new record which was thought would endure for many years.

Dibble, of the Don Rowing Club, the champion of Canada, who beat Butler on Saturday in the Canadian Henley, will start in the association singles, and if he wins will start in the championship race.

One of the new features of the regatta will be an intercity couples sculling race in which New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Halifax will enter their best scullers.

The Western and Canadian clubs have supported the regatta splendidly and count upon carrying off their share of the prizes.
